

Brian Lowell French

God, a Guy, and a Piano

Concert Experience

Brian Lowell French, a Christian singer-songwriter from Bartlesville, Oklahoma, is available to perform at your church or ministry setting. The "God, a Guy, and a Piano" concert experience is a one and a half hour concert featuring songs from Brian's album of the same name. The concert is typically provided on a Saturday evening and is generally open to the public which provides those in the community a chance to be introduced to your church. The unique concert experience provides moments of worship, humor, self-reflection, and a general feeling of peace as the songs and Brian's simple words provide a message of God's love, peace, and understanding.

Free Concert and Receive a Free CD

The concept behind this concert experience is unique. It costs your church/ministry nothing to provide the concert (we even bring our own sound system). And the concert is free and open to the public, providing a wonderful outreach opportunity. The attendees even receive a free CD (limited to one per family). A love-offering is simply taken to help cover our expenses. Even the love-offering is unique in that it's very low-pressure. Instead of passing a collection plate, we simply place two boxes in out of the way areas so that if someone is unable to give it won't be obvious. Our goal is to simply ensure that anyone who wants to receive the gift of this music can do so.

How to Book/Provide a BLF Concert Experience

- Contact Brian through the web-site at: www.brianlowellfrench.com
- Once a date is decided upon you will receive flyers and a press kit from Brian in order to promote the concert.
- Post flyers around your community and submit the news article to your local paper. (note: no tickets or reservations are needed)
- In the afternoon of the concert date, open your church so we can setup our equipment and get prepared.
- We like to have your minister provide an introduction which allows those attendees from outside your church to meet your pastor.
- And that's all there is to it! It's easy, and provides your church or ministry a wonderful outreach opportunity.
